Chamber Of Commerce Meet Stanhope Airport Holds

Very Successful Fly-in

A very successful 17th Annual Meeting was held by the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday, May 11, at the Legion Hall in Haliburton.

The meeting this year was changed quite substantially in that three afternoon sessions were held. The first session on advertising was a spectacular display put on by Mr. Fred Boyer, Acting Deputy Minister and Executive Director of Tourism and Information. Mr. Boyer showed the approximate 60 people present the television plans of his department for the coming year. This was shown by the means of a slide presentation and also video tape.

Mr. Ross Weigand, Secretary-Manager of the Kawartha Tourist Association, explained to those assembled how his region utilizes co-operative advertising. Mr. Art Ward of Haliburton, who is the Chairman of the Chamber's Advertising Committee, explained that we, this year, ventured for the first time into co-operative advertising, with very good results so far, and said he looked forward to more extensive programmes in the future.

The second panel was on pollution, and was very lively indeed. Among the panellists were Mr. Al McConnell, O.W.R.C., Toronto; Dr. John Burkholder, Associate Medical Officer of Health; Mr. Dougald Patterson, Vice President of the Haliburton County Property Owners' Council, Toronto; Mrs. Heather Gardiner, Haliburton; and Mr. Glen Scully, a teacher at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. The panel was moderated by Mr. Rick Poole of Haliburton. Mr. McConnell spoke of the high cost of sewage treatment but noted that Minden is proceeding very well with their plan for a sewage treatment plant.

Mrs. Gardiner, who was speaking on behalf of concerned women, noted that children have the right to be brought up in a clean world and that it is up to us to provide it.

On the question of disposable bottles, it was again felt by all on the panel that they should be banned in Ontario. Mr. Poole noted that the Chamber of Commerce had taken a hard line on disposable bottles, and that as recently as two weeks ago had written our Member, and the Minister of Energy & Resources, strong letters urging adoption of pending legislation regarding disposable bottles.

After this session, the President of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, Carman Wright, and Secretary-Manager Ted Campbell took the floor to answer general questions about the Chamber's operation.

The 132 members and honoured guests then sat down to a very enjoyable dinner provided by the women of the Haliburton Legion. Sitting at the head table were the Honourable Fern Guindon, Minister of Tourism; Mr. Fred Boyer, Acting Deputy Minister and Executive Director of Tourism and Information; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Windover; Mr. and Mrs. Carman Wright; Mr. Dougald Patterson of Toronto; Miss Susan Harris; and Mr. Ted Campbell, Secretary-Manager.

Following the dinner, the Honourable Fern Guindon gave an address to the many members assembled. He spoke of the need for municipal governments to accept a far larger share of the financial burden of running regional tourist councils than they do at present. He noted that in many cases these local governments were almost irresponsible in their approach to an industry giving so many economic benefits, especially in an area such as Haliburton, which was almost entirely dependent, directly or indirectly, on the tourist dollar; 10.4 million dollars in 1969. Mr. Guindon also noted that with the exception of a very few areas, the membership were receiving far more benefits than they were paying for, and it was up to the tourist councils or chambers of commerce to thoroughly appraise their membership on the basis of services rendered. He noted that in Haliburton the Chamber of Commerce was extremely active in promoting the County, but severely hampered by lack of funds. Mr. Guindon also spoke on the need for a pollution free environment if the Haliburton area was to continue and expand

J. Earl Palmer New President

On Tuesday evening Mr. J. Earl Palmer of Minden was named President of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce; and Mr. Gary Vasey, also of Minden, is the new Vice President.

In an interview with the new President on Wednesday morning he told the Echo that he will strive for Haliburton County to retain its unique character, and he will seek to keep it a recreation area. Mr. Palmer went on to say that if our county is to grow we must have more money from all levels of government — provincial, county council and municipal. The biggest share of this money will have to come from the provincial government. The new President will also take a firm stand in an attempt to lure small industries into the county.

He is quite interested in running a contest for suggestions for twinning up with another area, possibly somewhere in the United States close to a large metropolitan area. A cash prize could be given.

Elected to the Board of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce at the 17th Annual Meeting last Tuesday were: Peter Curry, Barbara Dawson, Edward Gardiner, Bruce Henry, Mervyn Robertson, Arthur Ward, Kenneth Wilson, Roy Windover, Donald Nye, William O'Brien, Sid Stamp, Earl Palmer, Gary Vasey, Carman Wright, Murray Agnew and Grenville Martin. The 16 were elected from a slate of 24 candidates.

Harcourt Man Marks 83 Years

Mr. Archie Sweet of Harcourt, Ontario, celebrated his 83rd birthday at a party given by his daughter-in-law, Hilda Sweet, at 988 Chemong Road, Peterborough, on Sunday, April 25, 1971.

A lovely turkey dinner was served, topped off with birthday cake and ice cream. Archie thoroughly enjoyed the family get-together and gave his little step-daughter, to prove he hasn't forgotten how it is done.

His eldest son, Harold, of Picton, was unable to attend due to illness.

Collision On Davis Lake Road

The Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police reported investigating a collision on the Davis Lake Road near Kinnmount on Sunday, May 16, at 6:42 p.m. Involved in the accident were vehicles driven by Archie Howard Bowman, 42, of Kinnmount and William Wilson, 50, of Scarborough. Total damage was estimated at $425. No injuries were reported.

O.P.P. Constable Roy Telford investigated.

On Sunday, May 16, Stanhope Airport had a record day on the occasion of the Second Annual Spring Fly-In. Some 80 to 90 light aircraft came in from many parts of the country; the pilots and families taking advantage of the bright May weather.

Sharp on the dot of 11:00 a.m. the R.C.A.F. Caribou from the Trenton Base, with Captain Claremont in command, thrilled the crowd with its low pass and very smooth landing. This aircraft has a wing span of 96 feet, a carrying capacity of two tons, and consumes 100 gallons of fuel per hour. It is remarkable that it can take off and land on less than half the runway distance. Spectators were permitted to go aboard to see the interior and its equipment. The instrument panel with all its gauges, meters, etc., was of particular interest.

On arrival, Captain Claremont and his air crew were greeted by Reeve Sinclair Nesbitt and Mr. Ken Moore of the Stanhope Flying Club. They were taken to the Reception Centre to register and were introduced to many of the invited guests, members of the Airport Committee and the Flying Club.

About noon the delicious barbecued beef supplied by Rancher's Market, Stinson's home-made bread, and salads were served by the very efficient team of Ken Whitney, Les Northey, George Pratt and Ron Bacon.

Mr. Bill Payne of Minden acted as Master of Ceremonies for the affair and introduced the guests present, among whom were Mr. Bill Scott, M.P.; Mr. Glen Hodgson, M.P.P.; Mr. John Brown, M.P.P.; Mr. Roy Windover, the County Warden; and other members of County Council. One very charming guest was Miss Joan Corbett of the London Flying Club. Joan was co-pilot to Mrs. Hilda Devereaux last year when they flew their Commander 100 in the Angel Derby from Toronto to Nassau in the Bahamas. They successfully completed the flight and both were featured in the film "Powder Puff for Joan". After being introduced, Miss Corbett thanked the Airport Committee for having invited her, and appealed to the young women of this community to take up flying.

The Coffee Bar was a busy place the entire day. Janice Barnes, who was in charge, with her helpers Elaine Nunn, Edith Russell and Marion Langdon, did a marvelous job in getting everyone served in record time. Out on the grounds the Kawartha Dairy truck and Nordic refreshment wagon also did a rushing business.

The First Aid team on the field was Mr. Lloyd Johnson and Mrs. Sandra Curry.

All in all it was a happy day for everyone who came, and the Airport Committee wishes to thank all those who helped to make it a success.

Mother And Daughter Banquet Held In United Church Hall

The annual Mother and Daughter Banquet of the Haliburton United Church Canadian Girls In Training was held on Wednesday, May 12, in the United Church Hall.

This year had its sad moments — first, because due to the large size of Messengers, Explorers and C.G.I.T. they could not have a joint banquet as they had done in past; secondly, it was the graduation of five senior members of C.G.I.T.

Mrs. Captain Wheeler returned thanks and then everyone helped themselves to a very delicious pot luck supper.

While the first year girls cleared the tables, everyone joined in a sing-song.

Afterwards four girls from the second year Intermediate group entertained those present with a short skit on what happens when you keep turning the dial of your F.V. Sharon Tyler was the announcer; Wendy Wood, a capable car mechanic, gave advice on how to care for your car; she was interrupted by Maureen O'Hara of the baby care centre advising mothers on the care of their babies; and both girls were interrupted by Debbie McDougall, our "Galloping Gourmet", with some lessons on baking a cake. Needless to say, if instructions were followed to the letter the car wouldn't run, baby would be unhappy, and the cake wouldn't rise.

Miss Alma Fox, Executive Secretary for C.G.I.T. (Ontario), gave a very interesting talk on the different characters of the girls in C.G.I.T., using the Tator family for illustration — Hesi-tator, Commi-tator, Agi-tator, Imi-tator, Sweet-P-tator, to name a few.

The senior girls were then presented with their lanyards and the graduates were presented with pins. Miss Fox spoke personally to each girl about her role in C.G.I.T. Girls receiving lanyards were Cathy Bannon, Anne Barry, Lynn Clappison, Sharon Peters and Magdalene Boloso; while girls receiving pins were Patsy Bannon, Debbie Nichols, Rene Shipley, Helen Tyler and Kathy Wood. During the presentation the intermediate girls formed two semi-circles around the seniors, each holding a lighted candle, and each girl receiving a lanyard or pin was also presented with a lighted candle. At the completion of the presentation the lights were turned off, and with candles burning brightly the C.G.I.T. girls sang their hymn, repeated their purpose, sang taps, repeated their benediction. Anne Barry closed this portion of the evening with prayer.

The lights were turned on and Mrs. Ron Tyler, who had instructed the second year intermediates in the Red Cross Home Nursing Course for teenage girls during the winter, presented the girls with certificates, namely Agnes Boloso, Nedean Casey, Maureen O'Hara, Debbie McDougall, Sharon Tyler, Sheila Holland, Wendy Wood, Cindy Tripp and Lilian Tyler.

After the girls complete their first Mission Study they are presented with a friendship badge. This usually happens in the first year of C.G.I.T., and although they do a study each year they are only entitled to one badge. Girls receiving badges this year were: first year girls - Janice Higgins, Lynn Grant, Julie Blanchard, Jennifer McGuiness, Mary-Anne Bonyun, Cindy Scheffee, Anne Wise, Martha Boloso, Nancy Bannon; second year intermediate - Agnes Boloso, Cindy Tripp; senior - Magdalene Boloso. We welcome Theresa Vanderwal to our group — Theresa joined in April after the Mission Study was completed. If anyone was missed

The Fishing Is Good

The fishing is good in the Haliburton area. On Saturday, May 8, Cliff Inglis of Haliburton landed a 13-pound trout in Drag Lake. Harold Bannon, also of Haliburton, caught a beautiful 5½-pound speckled trout on Saturday, May 15, at Black Cat Lake while fishing with Willard McPhail. They also caught three good sized lake trout.

O.P.P. Probe Asked Of Property Sale

A land auction held in Metro last week has left a host of unhappy purchasers in its wake, according to Reeve Gary Agnew of Monmouth Township, where some of the properties are located.

He said the Consumer Protection Bureau had been asked to intervene in the land sale at the Broom and Stone Tavern but was unable to do anything because it lacked jurisdiction.

However, an official of the Consumer Protection Bureau said he referred the matter to the Ontario Provincial Police in Don Mills for investigation.

The auction, which featured no reserve bids, was held May 10 and 11. Bidders were shown colour slides of some of the properties but few had seen land prior to purchase.

One buyer arrived to find two-thirds of his new purchase under water.

June 1971

Is Census Month

"By participating in the 1971 Census, every citizen will be helping our municipality, and I urge wholehearted co-operation on the part of every individual in the community", stated Roy Brohm, Reeve of the Municipality of Dysart et al.

"It has been ten years since we last had a full-scale census and it is now time to establish new benchmarks on which to map our future course. Census statistics provide information on housing, schools, social programs — in fact the whole spectrum of services in our municipality. Every businessman can profit from census facts to give him the latest knowledge of his markets. Every resident stands to gain because his representatives will have up-to-date information at his disposal", he concluded.

Man Startled By Commotion

Roy Anderson, an 80-year-old Hal's Lake man, was startled recently when he heard a commotion outside his back door in the early hours of the morning. Upon investigating, carrying his trusty 410 shotgun, he spotted a large black bear and killed it on the spot.

A Lands and Forests employee at Minden reported that the bear weighed between 400 and 500 pounds.

Probe Asked

"I made the effort to come down for the first auction (May 10)," said Mr. Agnew in a telephone interview. "I knew the property that was up for sale, and I knew there would be a lot of irritated people."

The advertisement placed in Toronto newspapers stated: "130 reg'd lots located in the heart of the Haliburton Highlands, some highway lots, retreat lots, river front lots; all lots have river access. All lots approved by the Dept. of Health, and each subdivision is road, telephone and Hydro serviced."

The ad was placed by M & W Auction Service under the name of W. R. (Bud) McKee, who provided verbal descriptions of the land during the sale.

The land in Monmouth Township was cut up into small sections and registered in 1969, Mr. Agnew said. Since then the Ontario Government has banned similar sectioning throughout the province.

"Some of the lots sold in our area were under 20,000 square feet," said Mr. Agnew, "and it is well known around here that very shortly we expect to make 20,000 square feet the minimum land size for any building."

Mr. McKee, the auctioneer, said that while all sales were binding it was also a condition that if the purchaser was refused a permit for a septic tank by the township and a letter of refusal was presented, the full purchase price would be refunded.

"This auction was no different from any other land auction I have ever conducted," said Mr. McKee. "Last year I auctioned Crown land and many buyers didn't bother looking at the land in advance then either."

He said descriptions and locations of the lots were advertised and people could inspect them before bidding on them.

"Land auctions are now a very big thing in Canada," said Mr. McKee. "I'm booked at the Broom and Stone every Monday night during the summer and expect to sell $20 million worth of real estate this year by auction. Some of it will be prime cottage land and some will be large parcels."

When Mr. Agnew was at the May 10 auction, he said he questioned the auctioneers about an old Canadian National Railway line which was being claimed as a road and ran along some of the Monmouth lots.

When he identified his position as reeve to the auctioneers and principals, and pointed out that the railway line was not a road and the township had no immediate plans to make it so, he said he was told to leave or he would be removed by security guards.

Mr. Agnew was not impressed by the claims of the ad. He said that none of the lots had full health department approval, some had no road access at all, and in Monmouth, the hydro and telephone facilities "could be brought in" but aren't there now.

He said that another section of lots in Glamorgan Township were purchased for $11,500 last year. He kept a tally during the auction sale and these lots went for a total of $86,000.

A spokesman for the provincial Department of Health in Lindsay said that the lots had been investigated by a local inspector and a preliminary report had been issued. That report was posted in the auction hall last week, but it was not a departmental clearance, the spokesman said.

This report also specified that each lot would have to have an individual inspection before building could go ahead.

The department's approval must be obtained so that it can control sewerage flow and the use of septic tanks.

The Executive of the Ontario Junior 'D' Champion Haliburton Huskies would like to thank the many people that helped the local hockey club during this past season, namely Ray Scott who kept the skates sharpened and the room in top shape; Bernard Bain who travelled to almost every away game to keep his eye on the clock and then also looked after the clock at the home games; Reverend John Smith who announced the games over the loud-speaker; the two Trainers, Bob Nichol and Curry "Pork" Whitaker; Arena Manager Don Johnston who kept the ice in top shape and put up with the boys during practices and games for the past six-and-a-half months; Alcide Carpentier and Wilson McElwain who acted as goal-judges at the away games; and last but not least the parents of the boys who drove them to practices, picked them up after away games and backed the management in the decisions that arose during the season. There are others that were more than willing to help out during the course of the season. Miss Ann Schell and Miss Maxine Roberts, along with Mr. Richard Meachan, handled the ticket sales on nearly every Saturday night.

The 1,589 paid admissions to the seventh and final game set a new attendance in the Haliburton Arena, and there were many people that partied 'till dawn and sipped the champagne from the big trophy after the Huskies' victory. After talking with Ken Wilson he informed us that he played for the Elora team of 1948 who were the first winners of this particular trophy. The Executive of the Exeter club were a very hard-working group this past year and Bob White (coach) and Bob Baynham (manager) deserve a great deal of credit for the team that they brought to the Ontario Finals.

Johnny Bower, a scout for the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, was impressed with the calibre of hockey and was more than a little excited throughout the final game of the series. He expects to be in town during the summer working at the Haliburton Hockey Haven. His son has spent three summers here.

Would anyone who took photographs during or after the championship game on Saturday, May 1, be so kind to give the negatives to Scotty LaRue who would like to get reprints. Mr. Ross Haugh of the Exeter newspaper donated some fine pictures to the club and also provided the executive with copies of his write-ups of the final series.

The Huskies thank all the fans for their support during the season, and with so many players perhaps leaving the club after this year it will be difficult to match this hockey entry, but we are certain that the Haliburton Huskies of the future will give everyone as much good hockey to enjoy as they had this year. The Highlands of Haliburton, with such a small population, can rightly be proud of such a group of fine young teenagers and hockey players.

Once again, to everyone who helped during the season and who were not mentioned in this write-up "thank you very much". See you next season!

AN IDLE SUMMER FOR SNARLY STUDENTS

This is going to be a long, tough summer for parents of young people in the senior high school and university brackets. They're going to be stuck with bored, restless children.

And the only thing worse than having a bored, restless child on your hands is a severe case of the crud, with complications.

The reason it's going to be a bad summer is that there are no jobs for the majority of young people who would normally be working.

The other day I carried out a brief poll of one of my senior grades. Most of them are bound for university or nursing or some such. I asked how many had a job lined up for the summer. Out of thirty people, two had. One will work for his father on a dairy farm. The other, a girl, will punch a cash register and only got the job because she'd worked at it last year.

So there we have twenty-eight frustrated young people. I have the greatest sympathy, not for them so much as for their parents. Nothing will break up a good family relationship more quickly than having a healthy young animal lolling about the house all summer.

They eat as though every meal were their last one. They get lazier and lazier, staying up late and sleeping in late. They have no money for recreation, and get surlier and surlier. They develop a feeling of being useless and unwanted, and resent any advice.

Too darn bad about the spoiled brats, you say, and I agree. But that doesn't alter the situation. I'd rather live for the summer with a porcupine that had an ulcer than a student without a job.

Thousands of them will hit the road, like the hoboes of the Great Depression, drifting about the country, bumming meals, a place to sleep, and losing their self-respect in the process.

And just as the hoboes used to raise enough for the occasional gallon of wine, some of these kids will panhandle or steal to get money in order to get high on drugs.

What's the answer? Don't ask me. I'm a question man, not an answer man. Then let's ask some questions.

Is it partly the kids' fault? Yes. Some of them would rather bum all summer than clean themselves up to the minimum standards of a pretty free society. Others have never done a dirty day's work in their lives, and would not stoop to menial chores. (My first job was cleaning out lavatories.) And a great many of them simply sneer at the whole protestant work ethic. It's all right for the old man, but I'm going to do my own thing — not work.

But I think the majority of these kids would welcome a job of any kind. Tough toe-nails for them. There aren't the jobs.

Industry doesn't want them, for practical reasons. They have to be trained for even the simplest factory work, and by the time they're producing they're off to school again. Industry prefers to hire people who are going to be content to put round pegs in round holes for years, at minimum wages.

And speaking of wages, the tourist industry, which used to absorb so much student labour, can't afford it any more. Minimum wages laws in jobs that used to be supplemented by tips have made many resort operators turn their backs on students. Why hire an awkward girl waitress with no experience, at a buck fifty an hour or whatever, when you can hire experienced waitresses from the vast pool of unemployed, for the same figure?

Is it the government's fault? Partly. The $50 million the federal government put up to alleviate the students' situation was too little and too late, and had so many strings attached to it that Mr. Benson might just as well have thrown it into the Ottawa River.

All it has done is create another branch on the vast oak of bureaucracy. That's where a good chunk of the money will go. It's like foreign aid. By the time the wheat or whatever it is trickles down through the bureaucrats to the natives (students), there's only a mouthful left.

Any reader with a modicum of comprehension will have realized by this time that my daughter is home from university without a job.

Anyone have a job for a twenty-year-old with big brown eyes, a charming grin and auburn hair? Qualifications: plays a mean piano and guitar and sings; types as quickly and accurately as her father; has a sunny disposition except when she's loafing around home without a job; fair cook; washes dishes faster than an automatic. Oh, yes, has a terrific figure.

(Master Builder)

Alfred Moore of the Village of Minden, who is a brother-in-law of mine (you must not hold this against him), visited us on Sunday, April 25th. We had not met for some little time so had a good deal of ground to cover.

As Ida and I moved to this house in September of 1922, and it had never been properly finished although some 25 years old, a good amount of renovating had to be done and Alfred and his brother Will did nearly all of this work.

He mentioned during our talk that he had reckoned up the number of houses he built in Minden Village to be some 27, as he remembered, and if you add to this the number of summer homes he has built on the many lakes in the area plus some about the Newmarket and Belle Ewart communities you will realize his hands have been busy.

I was interested in a remark he made as he looked over a job he had done on a newel post and short railing he had erected from our native oak — apparently he had made an error in measurement of one inch on the rail. By close scrutiny one could see the fine hairline where he had joined a short one-inch piece to correct the error.

Alfred still does some light carpentry jobs now and each winter he builds a canoe and a rowboat or two, of which he gets ready sale.

His wife, formerly Violet Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Harrison of Carnarvon, has been an invalid for some 10 or 12 years and is now a resident of a nursing home in Aurora.

Alfred lives in his lovely home and his many friends will be welcomed who call.

In these, his later years, he can look forward with pride on the many dwellings he has built throughout the county.

Violet and I join his many friends to wish him many further years of useful life.

Lakes Of Haliburton Which Form "The Island"

This fine report was given to us by John Hewitt, who is still somewhat disabled but still makes this effort to preserve our history for future reference:

While it would be next to impossible to deal with all the lakes of our county, or even name them all, I would like to choose those best known to me, and in fact in the vicinity of which I have spent most of my life.

I have accumulated most of the material from my memory of stories I heard as a boy, from articles and stories of surveyors, trappers, lumbermen, prospectors and from events I myself experienced.

I would especially mention Hall's Lake, not only for its beauty but because of its outstanding features not common to most others. Hall's Lake lies just north of the 45th parallel, almost in the centre of Stanhope Township, and it is nearly 1100 feet above sea level. It is almost round with a diameter of two miles, and has a depth greater than most inland water (even the Great Lakes, with the exception of Lake Superior). Old lumbermen claimed it to be deeper than a cable's length at one spot. More recent checks have been unable to find this spot, but nature has a way of informing us of its great depth by its late date in freezing over — it is always the last to put on its winter coat of ice. I remember one year it was February before it was completely frozen. Because of it being almost circular in shape it does not suffer from a very great wind velocity, nor for any great distance.

It is said that Hall's Lake came by its name due to the tragedy of a man named Hall. It seems this man came from the Peterborough area to purchase furs from the Indians and when he travelled beyond the area where the Rice Lake Indians were he was massacred by members of another tribe in the vicinity of the lake, hence the name Hall's Lake. A great-nephew of this man who lives in the Minden area confirms the story. His grandfather, while living in Apsley, had often spoken of it.

Before the use of chemical and detergents in the vicinity, Hall's Lake and the Hawk Lakes were considered to have the clearest waters, free from discoloration and impurities.

The area bounded by these lakes used to be known as "The Island". Trout or Sherborne Lake is at the north, with its waters flowing out either via Hawk or St. Nora Lake. Next is Kushog, a long narrow lake, which makes up the western side of the island and empties into Boshkung at the Buck Slides. This is about the western boundary of the township, and the full length from above Bell's Line at the north to the Peterson Line at the south is a distance of eight miles, and at present a new county road is being constructed in this area. On the other side, Hawk Lake empties into the Hawk River which carries its waters on down into Hall's Lake at the easterly side and out through Buttermilk Falls at the south into Boshkung Lake. At the head of the Hawk River, just below the dam, one can see the remains of an old log chute where, years ago, thousands of logs in the springtime went hurtling down into the rapids of the river, being borne swiftly on their way to the nearest sawmill. The river is two miles in length and follows a very winding course. A trip by boat from below the rapids on down to the lake brings pleasure seldom surpassed to those who enjoy the beauty of nature; summer or winter, the river is beautiful.

At the other end of Hall's Lake is Buttermilk Falls, one of the best known beauty spots in the province. It derives its name from the crests of white foam created by the tumbling, churning water below the dam. There are always sightseers around the Falls picnicking or taking pictures. The gorge above the dam is a favourite haunt of artists and photographers, and pictures of Buttermilk Falls have found their way to many parts of the world.

There used to be a log slide here also and, although the wooden structure is long since gone, parts of the concrete side walls can still be seen. It seems a pity that some of our tax money is not used to keep this beauty spot from erosion and ruin. This area is viewed by thousands every year and should be kept attractive.

Here, too, is the old Indian portage. Going from the head of Boshkung Lake over to Phil's Bay on Hall's Lake is a much shorter and safer route than is more often used. Canoeists of today do not seem to know of it. This was the route used by the Indians who were not living in this area, but who came for hunting and fishing. This portage might easily have been the place where conflicts arose, as there seemed to be a dividing place of different tribes. Those on the island and around the waters to the north and west were the Rama and Georgian Bay Indians and those to the south and east were the Mississauga or Rice Lake Indians. Descendants of early Rama Indians tell stories of hidden treasures in a cave in this vicinity where they were stored so as not to be stolen by other tribes, until they could be safely taken home. Some day, no doubt, geologists will uncover some evidence of these treasures.

There are many spots bearing the names of early settlers — Phil's Bay on Hall's Lake named after Philip Davis, who lived at the head of Boshkung Lake; Trott's Point after Ben Trott, an early settler at the southwest of the lake; Buck's Slide after the Buck family who had a mill at the foot of the Slides, and also a hotel at the junction of the Peterson and Bobcaygeon Roads. The area around Boshkung Lake was settled before the Halls by the families of Mason, Davis, Welch and Hewitt, who were the earliest settlers. After a few years many more came, including three Negro families, descendants of slaves who had escaped from the United States.

Through the years there have been various spellings of Boshkung Lake. Originally it was the Indian name "Boskung" meaning big reservoir, but this was changed from time to time to Boshkung, Boshkung, Boshkung. When Joseph Beatty got the first Post Office in 1862 and carried the mail twice a week to Minden the name was officially "Boskung" but when the highway was built and road signs put up it was changed to Boshkung, as it is now.

Then Joe Beatty became Reeve of the township and he began to tax people for a school which had been built near Masons. The Negro families and some others didn't like the tax idea, but eventually it was imposed. This brought many protests, as some families had no children, and early one morning the school burned down. When some of the men were looking at the ruins and discussing what to do, one of the Negroes came to Mr. Beatty and told him the Bible had been saved — there it was, resting safely on a stump, well back from the ruins. This sort of gave an indication of what might have happened. This was the time of year when barns were empty, and as Mr. Beatty and some of the other settlers were determined that school was necessary classes were set up in a barn hay-mow. Plans then went ahead for a new school and one was built on a corner lot between Masons and Beattys, where it carried on successfully until the present one at the four corners was built in the early 1900's at a contract price of $350.00.

About this time, also, there were some difficulties regarding the church. In 1869 the Crown had deeded a piece of property at the north corner of Lot 8, Concession 3, where a log church was started. However, it didn't seem to be the right place, so Mr. Tom Godwin donated a plot off his farm which was a more suitable location, and where the present St. Stephen's church was erected in 1901. Shortly after, Mr. Godwin had a very sad experience when his son fell off the crib at Horseshoe Lake one night and drowned; he was the first person to be buried in the present Cemetery.

One of the first surveyors in the county, Mr. J. Bell, reported in his notes on Christmas Day of 1847 he and his crew of men were camped near the four corners of the Townships of Hindon, Stanhope, Ridout and Sherborne. Years ago the then Premier, Honorable Leslie Frost, requested the Department of Lands and Forests to suitably mark this historical spot. I was working for the Lands and Forests at the time and I recall the sign was erected on Highway 35 just south of the Forestry School. These men had travelled over some 56 miles west from Madawaska over very rough, rocky country, and the notes record that there was considerable among them — I imagine when they were sent into Stanhope Township they weren't feeling much enthusiasm about the country. Anyway, they reported that only 45 per cent of the land was good for farming. Nevertheless, their reports resulted in this area being among the first to be settled, the settlers coming by boat and over the Bobcaygeon Road. This was the first road extending from Bobcaygeon to the Lake of Bays, and took several years to build.

Then Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald surveyed the line between Stanhope and Minden in 1857, and he found a man living at the narrows of the Boshkung Lakes. This man had been there about six years and had cleared several acres; he also reported that there were others living farther up. Surveying had not yet been done in that area, and by the time Mr. G. W. Stewart commenced the job of surveying Stanhope in 1860 these families were already well settled. No deed was issued until 1863 and for the next ten years a good many settlers were granted deeds to property on "The Island", especially on the west side of Boshkung and Hall's Lakes.

The first licensed timber operators in the area were William McGougall and S. Dickson. In order to drive their timber to the mills they had to build dams on the rivers. By 1875 the governments of that time reconstructed the dam at Hall's Lake which was located at the beginning of the gorge, some 260 feet upstream from where the present one is. They added extensions and aprons, etc., to it every few years until in 1893 when a new timber dam was built 250 feet downstream, just in front of the present one. This new dam was built with hewn square 12' x 12' pine timber, 56 feet long, 25 feet wide, and 23 feet in height from base to deck; there was a 20-foot-long sluiceway, eight feet in depth, with a 71-foot-long log slide of hewn maple with birch floor eight inches thick and hemlock squared for piers on the sides, except on the curves where hardwood was used. The piers were then filled with stones. The glance piers were built another 250 feet downstream and this dam was much larger than the former, and the better slide prevented damage to the timber and logs being floated down to market at Trenton. It lasted for about 20 years.

In 1906 the dams and waters of the Gull River were taken over by the Trent System and the lakes were used as reservoirs, as they are still today. The dam had repairs made, the slide extended, and the bridge was attached to the dam. By 1914 the entire structure was replaced with concrete, which still remains, with very little having been done in the way of repairs. The concrete section of the slide is now showing signs of being weakened by the water beating against it for so many years. In 1934 the Department of Highways built a new bridge, and now a recent survey shows another one upstream is being considered in the near future, for which the contract has now been let.

For some time the provincial and federal governments had been trying to get a water route from Ottawa to Georgian Bay and were quite eager to help the lumbermen with dams on these rivers and lakes. As time went on and more logs were being floated down, it became necessary to replace many of the dams and build new ones. The one at Buck Slides didn't follow the river but went in at the right of the old one and followed a much straighter course. It became a great trap for the eel fish which were abundant in Bushog at the time. These eels closely resembled a snake, and had originally been salt-water fish. In their efforts to get back to salt water they became dry-docked on the slides and eventually became extinct in these waters.

In 1877 the dam at Hawk Lake had to be replaced and also a longer log slide had to be built, as many of the logs were being damaged by the rocks in the river. The logs were cut with a few inches of buntage, but even so, there was considerable damage. Many more structures were built, and added to, in order to prevent the damage — a channel above the dam was cleared of stone and a coffer dam built and filled with gravel. There seemed to be no limit to the amount of work required on this vital link in the chain of waters carrying the logs on the long journey to their final destination — the mills eventually became a political football and patronage was prevalent, especially if it happened to be election year. For instance, in 1928, when the present Hawk Lake dam was being built, one had to know the "right person" in order to get a job on the construction work.

Finally, in 1906, the Federal Government took over the Gull River waterway for the purpose of controlling the lakes and rivers for the Trent Canal System, which is still in effect.

With so much work being carried on annually with so many men it became necessary to have someone in charge of the dam and control the flow of the water, so Pete Grozelle was the first dam keeper and the big white house was built at Hawk Lake. Later on it was James Welch, and by 1912 William H. Hewitt, with his bride Alice, moved into the "white house". They were two miles from the nearest neighbour, they had no modern facilities, and only by wagon trail could they get out. They had a horse, cow, dog and cat, and plenty of wild life. They lived there until the early twenties when they bought a home on Hall's Lake and moved out of the wilderness. He continued to look after the dams and water levels until 1951. It was around this time that his wife died. With the advent of modern facilities such as roads, motorboats, etc., his job was amalgamated with other waterways, and he was retired on a small pension. For a while afterwards the levels were not taken care of quite so well and there was considerable property damage.

A property owner said that Billy Hewitt could look after the controls better when he was drunk, as water was never known to run over the dam when he was in charge.

Sunshine Scratches From A Small Town

With the snow gone and the old ball field shined up for the new season, last year's champion Wilberforce Lumber Kings are practicing for the new season and hoping for a repeat. The first was slated to take place on Wednesday, May 17, at Wilberforce Park.

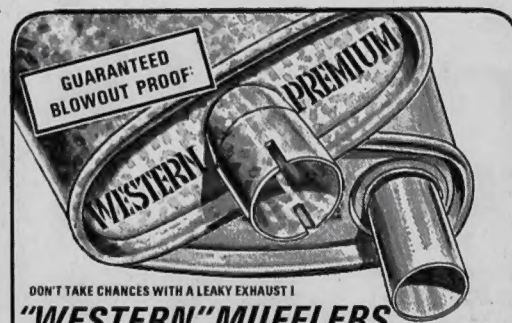

Ann and Dave Watson held a "farewell and welcome" party two weeks ago. What's that? The purpose of this unusual sounding get-together was to say goodbye to good friends to the community in Tom Rice and his wife Julie and to welcome Ed Odonkar, who is to be the new Red Cross dentist in the dentist coach. The turnout was tremendous, and everyone was treated to refreshments to make the evening a most worthwhile gathering.

The senior pupils at Wilberforce School would like to thank the people who supported their Potato Chip Sale and also say thanks to Duncan Cameron who made the deliveries.

The pupils of the Wilberforce School are also concerned about the pollution problem in our County and have decided to do something about it. During an outdoor science lesson last week they discovered 22 bottles on the side of the road in just a little over 100 yards. The pupils then decided to hold an Anti-Pollution March on Saturday, June 5, with the purpose of cleaning up the roadsides in our part of Haliburton County while earning money for a school trip at the same time. They plan to pick up all the bottles, glass and other debris, leaving it in garbage bags and bushel baskets along the roadside where it will be picked up by a half-ton truck. They will cover an area stretching from Irondale through Gooderham, Tory Hill and Wilberforce to Harcourt by dividing up into two groups. We ask you to remember the words of Ian Tyson of Ian and Sylvia and also the T.V. show Nashville North: "We can't beat pollution by just talking about it. If we don't get it, it will get us." Think about it!

IN MEMORIAM

HAGUE - In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Margaret Hague, who passed away May 24, 1965.

Beautiful memories are wonderful things, They last till the longest day, They never wear out, they never get lost And can never be taken away; To some you may be forgotten, To others a part of the past, But to those who loved and lost you Your memory will always last. -Sadly missed by Husband and Family.

HELLEMS - In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Roy, who passed away May 24, 1960.

Dad is such a special word, A word that brings to mind A big warm smile, a helping hand, A way of being kind; Devotion to the family, A world of patience too, "Dad" is such a special word Because it stands for "you".

—Always remembered by wife Mabel, son Bill, daughters Isabel and Grace and their Families.

McKAY - In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Arch McKay, who passed away May 13, 1931; and my dear dad, Arch McKay, who passed away May 3, 1933.

PALMER - In loving memory of Mildred Palmer, who passed away May 18, 1970.

Though her smile is gone forever, And her hand I cannot touch, Still I have so many memories Of the one I loved so much; Her memory is my keepsake With which I'll never part, God has her in his keeping, I have her in my heart. -Sadly missed by her husband Fred Palmer.

PALMER - In loving memory of a dear mother, Mildred, who passed away May 18, 1970.

We tell our lonely aching hearts God took her from us for the best, That only he, the great physician, Could ease her pain and give her rest;

Alas, the hours without her Are too empty to be measured, And we wish a thousand times each day

For the dear Mom that we treasured.

—Lovingly remembered by her daughter Ruth, son-in-law Clarence and Grandchildren.

PALMER - In memory of our dear sister, Mildred Elvena, who passed away May 18, 1970.

ST. PETER'S ANGLICAN CHURCH NEWS

The annual Spring Cleaning Bee of St. Peter's Anglican Church was held on Wednesday, May 12, commencing at 9:30 a.m.

At 1:30 p.m. the monthly meeting of the Anglican Church Women was held in the basement. It was a pleasure to have the Reverend Frank Ford and Mrs. Ford present on this occasion.

After the meeting the usual cup of tea time was turned into a surprise for one of the A.C.W.'s most highly respected members, Hughena Redner (nee Kernohan) who, with her husband Clarence, celebrated their 25th Wedding Anniversary on Saturday, May 1, 1971. When the cake — decorated with a silver wreath, 25, and white daisy mums — made by the President, Louise Clark, was presented everyone joined in singing "Happy Anniversary to you, dear Hughena". The table was centred with the cake and white candles. Before the cup of tea, sandwiches, ice cream and cake, Mr. Ford asked the blessing.

At the conclusion, Hughena was presented with a beautiful cake plate with 25th Wedding Anniversary written on it in silver, and she also received a lovely card and a sum of money given by the members of the A.C.W.

Hughena responded with a few well chosen words thanking all.

THE UNIQUENESS OF THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST (NO. 1)

There is something different and unique about the churches of Christ — something that is worth investigating.

These churches do not have a different Bible. Neither do they have a new and different revelation. Nor are they able to know any hidden truths that any religious groups cannot know. Yet, they do teach truths that other religious people don't teach.

1. Christ is the absolute monarch (Matt. 17: 5; Matt. 28: 18-20; Heb. 12: 25). Other religious peoples wait for the decisions of their conference, their synod, their association, while members of the churches of Christ recognize Christ as the only absolute monarch or King to settle any decision of the soul.

2. These people live under only one religious law or testament at a time (Heb. 10: 9; 8: 6-7; Jer. 31: 31; Col. 2: 14). Since these passages teach that there was an old law and that there is a new law, it is to be recognized that the old law was nailed to the cross and that the new law of Christ is now in effect. To try to live under both laws is considered by Paul as spiritual adultery (Rom. 7: 14).

3. These people believe that one can become just a Christian without being a Catholic or Protestant (Act 11: 26; 26: 28; I Pet. 4: 16). The early Christians were not "Catholic" or "Protestant" Christians, but rather they were just simply the children of God, known as Christians instead of being Jews, heathen or something else. And members of the churches of Christ believe it is still possible to obey all teachings of the Bible without belonging to any Protestant church or any Catholic church. In other words, if you do just what the Bible teaches must (or in any sense, will) you become a member of anything but the Lord's church?

Seven Hours Of Travelling From And To Haliburton

On a beautiful day late in March 1971, travelling from Haliburton, we observed snowmobiles almost everywhere on the many lakes and fields; the fish huts on Maple, Boshkung and Twelve Mile Lakes and solitarily individual fishermen working their lines.

At Carnarvon the very large amount of activity on the north side of the village with the construction crew establishing their office and accommodation, with machine repair sheds, brings a sense of things to come along Highway 35 in that area. Survey crews placing stakes as outlined for the work area and piles of steel at the Beech River Bridge site creates expectation that the landscape will change dramatically by the next time you travel the highway.

Along the road one observes restaurants at Ox-Narrows open and doing business, as is the one at Lake St. Nora. Then you see the cars and trucks of those taking courses at the Dorset Forestry School. Here also, you see fishing with huts and some sitting on the seats of snowmobiles at holes they have cut in the ice of the lakes.

Dorset is the starting point for safaris and several groups of snowmobiles can be observed starting out or coming back on trails such as the one over to Ontonog Lake, through a very attractive country with lakes.

Dorset Tower Lookout Park is under the full blanket of snow but, here also, people in bright coloured clothing can be observed viewing the country from its very high terrain. The recently rebuilt highway to the north is of crushed stone base and proceeds through rugged hills with marvelous coloured rocks, on the walls in cuts made by the construction men. At Goose Lake this rebuilt section ends and one can again see the main activity centre of a construction company. Here and there, as you proceed along, is a large machine moving earth and snow. In the Ten Mile Bay area there is a completely different activity to observe, as large rock moving equipment is at work extending the high fill for the new road on its changed location, back from the lake. The challenge of moving the many tons of rock is being met by large machines of red and yellow colours that look small against the larger mass of rock in the hills.

Above Marsh Falls, on each side of the river, are drag-line and pile-driving machines that have begun to work on the piers in the river for the new bridge; men cutting ice with a chain-saw is something out of the ordinary to observe. Welders sealing and placing together the materials for the giant machines to use in the piers draws your eyes to the bright lights of their torches.

Short of the junction with Highway 60, you see the green Bell Telephone trucks and the company cable splicers completing the line work made necessary by the new construction of the highway.

On the return trip down the highway, one is very much occupied in looking at the changes made in so short a space of time by the workmen, along with their machines.

Proceeding back to Hall's Lake and then taking the Stanhope Township road along the north shore, we had a short pleasant talk with perhaps the senior tourist guide for the area, Pete Sawyer, who was returning from about a 40-minute fast snowmobile trip to Red Pine Lake. One could not help making the comparison in time making this trip with the machine against his many years using the snowshoes he had standing in the snow, used for such trips so many times.

Further up the road at Little Hawk Lake, people were doing activities of several types at the tourist lodges and cottages. The Gibsons were just starting out with their snowmobiles to go to their other summer place on another lake, but graciously greeted us. Willard McPhail, of the Lands and Forests Department, came along from a lengthy trip on a snowmobile and he, like almost everyone else, remarked on the wonderful day and conditions for travelling on this day all over the county.

On the road to Big Hawk Lake, the sawmill operation of Elgin Stouffer was in full swing with debarking, chipping and sawing of timber and lumber from mixed logs of different species. The several workmen who are craftsmen at their particular jobs made their effort appear of an easy nature, while one knew it was of very hard work.

When we had turned back onto Highway 35 we observed the collapsed roof of the Dance Hall, formerly operated for years by the Coopers. The passing of this recreation facility will be with regret to a great many persons who have enjoyed themselves over the years at the many events there.

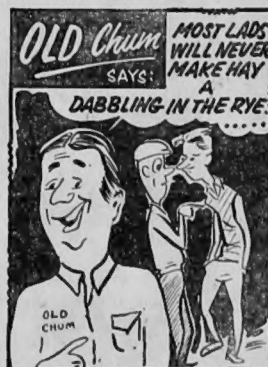

On the way back home we met a multitude of cars and small trucks with snowmobiles on trailers or in the box, signalling the ending of a beautiful day of sunlight and moderate temperature; all very well satisfied with a good day of activity.

Mr. Gordon Pearsell, Haliburton

The Nation's Business

By WILLIAM C. SCOTT, M.P.

Prime Minister Trudeau is attempting to push legislation through the House of Commons that would allow him to increase greatly the size of his Cabinet. But, as I have pointed out many times in the past, it would be better for all of us if he were to put his present cabinet in order.

Dissension in the present Cabinet is reaching alarming, if not critical, proportions and two senior Ministers have quit the Cabinet in protest to the Government's fiscal policies. Former Transport Minister Paul Hellyer and Communications Minister Eric Kierans have both stated that the government's economic and fiscal policies were proving disastrous to this country's present and future prospects for survival as a sovereign nation.

Last year M.P. Perry Ryan, one of the government's Toronto area stalwarts, quit the Liberal Party and crossed the floor to sit with the Opposition. Mr. Ryan said that he could not continue to support a government that paid so little regard to the needs and desires of the Canadian individual. He said that he was deeply disturbed over the government's failure to reduce the tragically high level of unemployment in the country.

There are indications that two or three of the remaining senior English-speaking Ministers are disenchanted with government policies in the areas of economic policy and the Prime Minister's preoccupation with bilingualism. Justice Minister John Turner is reported to be at odds with the Cabinet over the question of extending the powers under the War Measures Act, and the subsequent Public Order Temporary Measures Act. Mr. Turner is reported to have favoured scrapping such extreme measures and utilizing the existing Criminal Code to combat Quebec terrorism. The Cabinet, however, favoured giving Premier Bourassa the powers he sought under the War Measures Act.

Finance Minister Edgar Benson is skating on thin ice over his inability to sell the Prime Minister's drastic tax reform proposals to the House of Commons and to the Canadian people at large. There is little doubt that Mr. Benson will come under heavy fire from the House of Commons and from the people when he tables his next budget, expected within a few weeks. He has intimated that his tax reform proposals will be included in the budget, and there is some doubt that he will be able to weather the storm that is sure to follow.

The Inner Cabinet, the close-knit group of Ministers who are in the driver's seat, are not people who have been selected on the basis of competency or merit. They are friends of Mr. Trudeau's from the days when he was a Montreal lawyer and socialist agitator. They are apparently more concerned with forcing bilingualism on all Canada than with solving the serious problems that beset the country. There are more than 700,000 adults and hundreds of thousands of students and recent graduates looking for work, while the government seems to be able to provide only stop-gap measures and federally sponsored projects with short-range goals. This is like taking money out of one pocket and putting it into the other.

It is time we stopped creating an environment where unemployment will be self-perpetuating. We must stimulate the economy and make it possible for industry and business to create jobs. The losses in tax revenue and purchasing power from present unemployment are staggering. This problem will not be solved by enlarging the Federal Cabinet. But, it might be a step in the right direction to service notice on the present Cabinet and their Government, to start producing results or step down in order to give the Canadian electorate an opportunity to express itself.

Bishop Hunt Welcomed

On Sunday, May 16, 1971, Reverend Frank Ford, the Rector, and members of St. Peter's Anglican Church, Maple Lake, and St. Andrew's Anglican Church, West Guilford, welcomed Bishop Henry Robert Hunt, M.A., D.D., Suffragan Bishop of Toronto, at the afternoon service of worship at 3:00 p.m. In two weeks Bishop Hunt retires after 41 years in the priesthood. He was accompanied by his charming wife.

The Altar and Chancel looked very appropriate with white and yellow flowers and long white candles. The basement looked spring-like with bouquets of yellow daffodils and white candles.

The lessons, read by Mrs. Earl Cooper of St. Andrew's, reminded us of our total dependence on God's bounty through the fruits of the earth. The anthem "Rejoice, ye pure in heart, Rejoice, give thanks and sing" was rendered by St. Peter's Choir under the direction of Mrs. Norman Finney. The organist was Miss Isobel Gibbs.

The Bishop, in his remarks before the sermon, said that he was always glad to come to the Parish of Haliburton and to come to this lovely church of St. Peter, especially in the spring-time with all its beauty of God's love and wondrous works. He made special mention of one of the senior members, Miss Charlotte Cooper, who played the organ at St. Peter's for many years and was a great friend of Bishop and Mrs. Hunt. They were going to call and visit Miss Cooper at the Senior Citizens' Home in Minden on their way to St. James Church at Kilmount.

The Reverend Frank Ford published the banns of marriage between Mr. Timothy Casey and Miss Lornell Sisson, the first time of asking.

At the close of the service the Bishop pronounced the blessing.

The Rector invited the congregation to assemble in the basement to meet the Bishop and Mrs. Hunt personally. Reverend Ford asked the blessing and a cup of tea with a variety of goodies was served and a social half-hour was spent by all.

CROMWELL

Mr. Guindon was introduced by R. Glen Hodgson, M.P.P. for Victoria-Haliburton, and at the conclusion of his address was thanked by Mr. Roy Windover, Warden of Haliburton County, who presented Mr. Guindon with a gift on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Windover then presented a cheque for $3,000 to Carman Wright, President of the Chamber of Commerce.

At 8:45, Carman Wright declared the meeting open and asked Ted Campbell, Secretary-Manager, to read the minutes of the previous Annual Meeting and the financial Report. Mr. Campbell then addressed the group (to be published at a later date) and Mr. Art Ward was called upon to give the Nominating Committee Report. Mr. Ward then read the 24 names that were on the ballot, and Messrs. Don Goodwin and Barry Dobson of the Department of Tourism were appointed as scrutineers. Carman Wright then gave the President's Report (to be published at a later date) and went on to the new business.

A lengthy discussion followed on the combination of the Directory and the Alex Wilson Lure Tour Book. The matter was finally turned over to the incoming Board of Directors.

Gary Agnew, Reeve of Monmouth, questioned the general membership on their feelings about light manufacturing industry in the county, stating that he felt the Chamber of Commerce was interested solely in tourism. Mr. Agnew asked for a show of hands on the question and the result of this vote was 31 for light manufacturing and seven against.

A motion was then read by President Carman Wright from William J. Mitchell of Minden, and seconded by Bruce Henry of Haliburton, that the annual membership fee of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce be increased across the board by the sum of $5.00; 87 per cent of the membership agreed to this move and it was carried. Mr. Campbell pointed out that this increase would create an additional $1,500 per year immediately to further promote our county to the best advantage.

Mr. Wright then called upon Mr. Don Goodwin to announce the election of officers for 1971. Mr. Don Goodwin of the Department of Tourism was appointed by the membership to be a voting Director. Mr. Gerald Dawson of the firm Dawson, Gray & Company was appointed auditor for the coming year.

Mr. Wright then thanked the members for their excellent participation in the meeting throughout the day, and adjourned the meeting.
